

Minor in Environmental Studies

A minor in Environmental Studies requires 20 semester hours of coursework within the BNR Department. One of the five courses may be an earth science course. At least 12 semester hours must be in courses numbered 200 or higher. Potential minors should consult the biology and natural resources faculty in planning their academic programs.