

Cox Auditorium

Angie W. Cox Auditorium was built in 1964 primarily to host the annual Principia Public Affairs Conference and Commencement. Today, this 1,100-seat auditorium is home to Principia College's Fall Convocation, Baccalaureate, Commencement, Speakers Series, Concert and Lecture Series, and other performances and talks throughout the year. It features Principia's 56-rank Casavant-Frères, Op. 3838, mechanical action pipe organ, as well as a Steinway grand piano.
